

A will for greater civil society involvement in EU-South cooperation and the need for an appropriate structure for the dialogue with civil society are among the conclusions underlined in a report published on the Southern Neighbourhood Civil Society Forum held in Brussels on 29-30 April, 2014.

The report highlights the positive response to the EU focus on civil society as a partner for dialogue, and a wish to see civil society brought closer to the heart of the administration of EU-South cooperation, as a true equal partner and not simply as an aspect to be considered.
